Abstract

In this work, we use numerical technique to reduce the Volterra-Fredholm integral equation to a linear system of Fredholm integral equations of the second kind and we apply the product Nystrom method to solve this system of integral equations to get the approximate solution of Volterra-Fredholm integral equation. The results are compared with the exact solution of the integral equation.

References

- I. S. Gradshteyn and I. M. Ryzhik, Table of Integrals & Series and Products, Academic

Index Terms

Computer Science Applied Mathematics

Keywords