Abstract

Present research work focuses on the key areas such as exploration of the benefit of social media and block chain technology to the finance, accounting and trade departments of small medium enterprises and thereafter exploring the various barriers to their successful adoption in these sectors in developing country such as India.

References

Index Terms

Computer Science
Information Sciences

Keywords

Social media marketing; Small medium enterprises; Block chain technology; Finance and trade sector