Abstract

In this paper, we propose a new interpretation of Brahmagupta’s terminology for Computer programming of different values of \( N \) and \( m \). We also extend some Vedic composition tables (for the values of \( g_N(m) \)) with Maple code that hold for the "Bhavan".

References

- Dutta B. and Singh. A. N, History of Hindu Mathematics, Part II, Asia publishing House (1962);
- Swamy M. N. S, Brahmagupta’s Theorem and recurrence relations A. M. S Classification Numbers. 11B39, 33C25; (1998).
- Aggrawal V. S, Vedic Mathematics Delhi: Motilal Banarasidas. (1971);

Index Terms

Computer Science
Applied Sciences

Keywords

Brahmagupta’s Bhāskara equation  Maple Software  Bhavan?  gN(m).