Abstract

When a mission for multistage rocket is fixed, the problem of optimum staging for rocket design comes in. In the proposed study we have discussed the treatment of optimization problem under two subsidiary conditions of restriction, namely for a constant initial gross mass of the rocket, to find optimum stage-mass distribution to achieve minimum propellant mass for a given required payload and burnout velocity. The usual assumption of drag free and gravitation less environment is taken.

References

Index Terms

Computer Science
Multisatstage Rockets

Keywords

Propellant Factors
Exhaust Velocities And Optimum Stage Mass Distribution Of Rocket
Lagrange's Multipliers